INTRODUCTION

The University of Notre Dame Australia is a private Catholic university which takes pride in the personalised attention it gives to its students and individualised education. The School of Business offers two main disciplines (Accounting and Finance/ Management and Marketing), headed by leaders in their respective fields who have strong commercial and industry experience. This ensures that the School's postgraduate programs are relevant and contemporary and embracing today's rapidly changing global environment while maintaining academic rigour.

Notre Dame Australia has strong links with The University of Notre Dame United States (NDUS) and the College of St. Benedict/St. John's University, Minnesota. Faculty from these two universities teach at the Fremantle Campus each year.

Graduates from Notre Dame's School of Business will graduate with the skills and competencies, knowledge and confidence to gain employment in the global business environment and to manage the increasingly diverse and complex international business environments of the 21st Century.

COURSE OUTLINE

The Graduate Diploma in Business (GradDipBus) is offered as a one-year full time (or equivalent part-time) course consisting of eight units. It is open to students with a recognised degree or the equivalent from other institutions. Students who have an undergraduate business degree may be eligible for exemption from certain units but must replace them with other units.

The completion of the Graduate Diploma may lead to further studies at a Master level.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Notre Dame encourages applications from people of all backgrounds and takes into consideration the applicant's academic performance as well as their personal qualities and accomplishments. Academic requirements are as follows:

- A Bachelor degree from a recognised Australian or overseas University demonstrating the attainment of satisfactory grades.

International students may be required to show evidence of English capabilities.

Recognition of Prior Learning may be granted to selected applicants who have no formal tertiary qualifications but who have a least 10 years industry experience.

MODE OF STUDY & ASSESSMENT

Students may undertake study as a part-time or full-time student, commencing in first semester (February) or in second semester (July), subject to unit availability. The assessment of competency in each unit consists of tutorial performance, a number of assignments or projects during the semester and a final examination.

APPLICATION FOR ENROLMENT

Applications should be received at least one month prior to commencement. However, there are limited places available in postgraduate courses and they will be filled on a first-come first-served basis, so early application is encouraged.
