The University of Notre Dame Australia
School of Law
2014 -2015 CPD Seminar Series

Intersection between liability in contract and in negligence under Part 1F of the Civil Liability Act 2002 (WA).

Wednesday 30th April 2014 – 6.00pm to 8.00pm

Speaker: Kathryn Roach
Special Counsel at Jarman McKenna and Lecturer in Torts at the School of Law, The University of Notre Dame Australia

Topic:
Part 1F: Be careless in contract – 2 x CPD Substantive Law Points
The seminar will involve an examination of the intersection between Part 1F and liability in contract and negligence (other than personal injuries), and a consideration of how solidary liability still haunts us today despite the best efforts of the Civil Liability Act 2002 (WA). It will also look at the impact of Justice Kenneth Martin’s judgment in Fudlovski v JGC Accounting & Financial Services Pty Ltd [No 2] [2013] WASC 301 on both plaintiffs and defendants.

Venue:
School of Law Building (ND11/202)
Entrance is via the Law Library off Bateman’s Courtyard. Upon entering the Law Library please look to your right and you will see an archway. Go to the archway and you will find the stairs to the first floor venue.

Parking may be available on either Mouat Street or Henry Streets at that time of the day. The closest covered public car park is in Collie Street, which is about four minutes walk from the School of Law building.

The Registration form to be completed and returned to Pam Meehan.

A campus map is available from The University of Notre Dame Australia’s website: Fremantle Campus Map.pdf

Please call Pam Meehan at the School of Law (9433 0741) or email her at pamela.meehan@nd.edu.au should you have any questions.